Life at a Boarding School

My name is Meriç and I am in the 10th grade at a boarding school in Kastamonu. My family lives in a small village, and there isn't a high school near us, so I stay at school from Monday to Friday. I share a room with three other girls. We have lessons until 15.30, and then we have free time and club activities. From 19.00 to 21.00, we have study hall, where teachers help us with our homework. At first, I missed my family a lot and I felt lonely. Now my roommates are like my sisters, and I go home every Friday evening.

a) Why does Meriç go to a boarding school?

(3 p)

b) What happens during study hall?

(3 p)

c) How have Meriç's feelings changed since she started? Explain with the text.

(6 p)

d) Find a word in the text that means "people who share a room with you".

Read Elif's post on a student forum.

“Feeling stressed before exams?” I know the feeling! Here are my three tips. First, divide your subjects into small parts and study one part a day. Second, go for a walk or do sports; exercise really helps me relax. Third, don't compare yourself with others – everyone learns differently. Good luck!”

Your classmate Ömer writes: “My first exams are next week and I'm really anxious. I can't concentrate.” Write a reply to Ömer (about 70–80 words). Use the same structure as Elif's post: understanding – three tips with First, Second, Third – a closing wish. Give three tips that are different from Elif's.

Write your reply.
