My Mum Works at Night

My mother, Hilal, is a nurse at the city hospital. She works night shifts three times a week. On those days, she leaves home at 7 p.m. and comes back at 8 a.m. When she arrives, she has breakfast with us and then sleeps until the afternoon. Her job is tiring because she is on her feet all night and she sometimes has very ill patients. But she loves helping people. My father is a chef, so he cooks dinner for us when my mother is at work. At weekends, we all try to spend time together.

a) What is Hilal's job, and where does she work?

(3 p)

b) How many hours is Hilal away from home on a night-shift day? Show how you find it.

(5 p)

c) Why is her job tiring? Write two reasons.

(5 p)

d) Who cooks dinner when Hilal is at work, and why can he do it well?

(2 p)

Life at a Boarding School

My name is Meriç and I am in the 10th grade at a boarding school in Kastamonu. My family lives in a small village, and there isn't a high school near us, so I stay at school from Monday to Friday. I share a room with three other girls. We have lessons until 15.30, and then we have free time and club activities. From 19.00 to 21.00, we have study hall, where teachers help us with our homework. At first, I missed my family a lot and I felt lonely. Now my roommates are like my sisters, and I go home every Friday evening.

a) Why does Meriç go to a boarding school?

(3 p)

b) What happens during study hall?

(3 p)

c) How have Meriç's feelings changed since she started? Explain with the text.

(6 p)

d) Find a word in the text that means “people who share a room with you”.
